FLIGHT MARKS 70TH VETERANS AIRLIFT COMMAND MISSION FOR WINDOW WORLD

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Window World®, America's largest replacement window and home remodeling company, completed its 70th Veterans Airlift Command (VAC) mission Tuesday, September 30, 2014. Following their participation in this past Saturday's Capital Region Tough Mudder 2014 in Gerrardstown, WV, Window World flew 7th Special Forces Group MSG Jared "Red" Bullock, Army Ranger PFC Kyle Emmons and MSG Troy Konvicka home to San Antonio, Texas.

The VAC provides free air transportation to post-9/11 combat wounded soldiers and their families through a national network of volunteer aircraft owners and pilots. For many wounded warriors with prosthetics or other mobility issues, flying in private aircraft rather than commercial planes is the best way to accommodate their unique needs. Window World has been a partner with the VAC organization for over five years.

The Capital Region Tough Mudder, designed to test participants' teamwork, stamina and all-around strength, was one of the more than 100 Tough Mudder races held nationwide since 2010. To date, these events have raised $6.5 million for the Wounded Warriors Project. Despite multiple injuries sustained fighting overseas in the fall of 2013, Emmons and Bullock, aided by Konvicka, completed the grueling 10-to-12-mile course, highlighting their determination and skills.

Following Saturday's race, Emmons, Bullock, with wife Jessica and son, Aidan, and Konvicka, with wife, Karen, departed from Washington Dulles International Airport on the Window World corporate aircraft. Window World's Chief Pilot Johnny Johnston is an army veteran who also served overseas. "I'm beyond fortunate to fly for a company that strongly supports our nation's soldiers, alongside of the VAC," said Johnston. "My dream is to continue working with Window World in aiding our wounded warriors for years to come."
