Window World Announces New President

NORTH WILKESBORO, N.C. — Following a unanimous vote of its board of directors, Window World®, America's largest replacement window and exterior remodeling company, named Steven Kamody as its new president, effective immediately.

"Steve's knowledge and passion for Window World make him a true asset and an ideal fit for the role of president," said Tammy Whitworth, chairman and CEO of Window World. "We look forward to his leadership and contributions to our continued growth and evolution."

Kamody brings over 20 years of industry experience to his new role, having most recently served as Window World's vice president of sales. In this capacity, Kamody oversaw the sales of the organization's more than 200 locations nationwide. As president, he will continue to work hand-in-hand with store owners to deliver industry-leading results and the high-quality service Window World customers have come to expect.

"Over the past several years, I've had the unique opportunity to serve stores and work closely with Window World owners in a variety of capacities," said Kamody. "I look forward to building on those relationships in my new role. It is an honor to serve as president of America's largest exterior remodeling company, and I am extremely optimistic about our future."

Prior to officially joining Window World, during his time as national sales manager with Paragon Door Designs, Kamody was an integral part of Window World's launch of its first entry door program. Additionally, while serving as a regional vice president at American WeatherSeal, Kamody was directly involved in the window program for Window World. Kamody holds a master's degree in business administration from Baldwin Wallace University and a bachelor's degree in business administration from Kent State University, both in Ohio.
